SUBJECT: Agency Comments on IR&DC Low Intensity Conflict Report

I spoke to  at the IC Staff this morning about the ADCI-mandated comments on the IR&DC Low Intensity Conflict Report, which your folks are already working on. Although comments were requested by mid-January (see attached ADCI memo) the IC Staff isn't expecting to receive many before the end of the month. If you would send your comments to me by about 28 January, then, I will try to pull together a single Agency response for the Director, IC Staff, by 30 January. You should focus on those IR&DC recommendations which your people think it would be most profitable to explore and worth trying to get funding for.

MEMORANDUM FOR: National Foreign Intelligence Program Managers

SUBJECT: Low-Intensity Conflict Technology Report

1. I have received the attached report from the Chairman of the Intelligence Research and Development Council entitled "High-Technology Opportunities for Intelligence Technology for Low-Intensity Conflicts" along with proposed implementing recommendations. I think that some of the technology opportunities which are listed may offer us increased capabilities and, therefore, I would like to receive your comments on these proposed actions.
